CCJ LAUNCHES UPGRADED WEBSITE

Port of Spain, Trinidad and Tobago. On Monday, 5 October 2026, the Caribbean Court of Justice (CCJ) unveiled its revamped website, featuring a modern user-friendly design and an artificial intelligence (AI) chatbot to make information about the Court and its work more accessible to stakeholders.

Stemming from the CCJ's Strategic Plan 2025–2032, which identifies technology and innovation as one of the Court's strategic priorities, the upgrade is intended to enhance the accessibility, efficiency, and future readiness of the Court's main digital platform. The chatbot complements the website's improved layout, helping users quickly find information and resources.

Speaking about the refresh, the Honourable Mr Justice Winston Anderson, CCJ President, noted, 'Given that our stakeholders are dispersed throughout the region, the website serves as the main portal for accessing information about the Court, its work, and its judgments. This redesign, together with the introduction of the AI chatbot, represents another step in strengthening our service delivery by making information easier to access, navigate, and understand. We hope these improvements will provide a more seamless and responsive experience for all our users.'

The redesign forms part of the CCJ's ongoing efforts to support enhanced justice delivery in keeping with the Court's mission of providing accessible, efficient, and substantive justice for the people and States of the Caribbean Community.

Members of the public are encouraged to visit the upgraded website (www.ccj.org) and explore its new features.

About the Caribbean Court of Justice

The Caribbean Court of Justice (CCJ) was inaugurated in Port of Spain, Republic of Trinidad and Tobago on 16 April 2005 and presently has a Bench of seven judges presided over by CCJ President, the Honourable Mr Justice Winston Anderson. The CCJ has an Original and an Appellate Jurisdiction and is effectively, therefore, two courts in one. In its Original Jurisdiction, it is an international court with exclusive jurisdiction to interpret and apply the rules set out in the Revised Treaty of Chaguaramas (RTC) and to decide disputes arising under it. The RTC established the Caribbean Community (CARICOM) and the CARICOM Single Market and Economy (CSME). In its Original Jurisdiction, the CCJ is critical to the CSME and all 12 Member States which belong to the CSME (including their citizens, businesses, and governments) can access the Court's Original Jurisdiction to protect their rights under the RTC. In its Appellate Jurisdiction, the CCJ is the final court of appeal for criminal and civil matters for those countries in the Caribbean that alter their national Constitutions to enable the CCJ to perform that role. At present, five states access the Court in its Appellate Jurisdiction, these being Barbados, Belize, Dominica, Guyana, and Saint Lucia. However, by signing and ratifying the Agreement Establishing the Caribbean Court of Justice, Member States of the Community have demonstrated a commitment to making the CCJ their final court of appeal. The Court is the realisation of a vision of our ancestors, an expression of independence and a signal of the region's coming of age.
